(The Data Protection Act 2018 and the Applied GDPR)

1.3 The Policy applies to all personal information created, received, stored, used and disposed of by Independence and Well Being Enfield Limited irrespective of where or how it is held.

1.4 It must be noted that compliance is a legal requirement and that individuals can face prosecution for breaches of its Principles.

2 Aim of the Policy

- not disclosed to unauthorised persons, and transfers to authorised persons recorded

2.2 IWE will actively seek to meet its obligations and duties in accordance with the law and in so doing will not infringe the rights of its employees, customers, third parties or others.

3 Scope

3.1 The scope of this policy requires compliance with the principles defined in law.

Personal Data is defined as: personal data relating to an identifiable living individual and includes the expression of opinion about the individual and any indication of the intentions of the data controller or any other person in respect of the individual.

Sensitive personal data is defined as personal data consisting of information as to:

- racial or ethnic origin
- political opinions
- religious or other beliefs
- trade union membership
- physical or mental health or condition
- sexual life
- commission of criminal offences or alleged offences.

3.2 Sensitive personal data may only be stored or processed for a limited variety of purposes. All processing of sensitive personal data without a legal basis for use must be cleared by the Information Commissioner.

3.3 All personal data must be protected, and sensitive personal data may require special protection measures.

3.4 Changes to use or new uses of personal data require consultation with the Data Protection Officer. Their advice must be recorded and if dissented from, the dissent and alternate action taken recorded.

4 Data protection principles

4.1 The GDPR includes principles, as does the DPA, which must be adhered to whenever personal data is processed. Processing includes obtaining, recording, using, holding, disclosing and deleting personal data.

4.2 All personnel processing personal information in the course of their business functionality must ensure they adhere to the principles in the GDPR Article 5 (the DPA eight principles cover similar ground, but the GDPR is more developed) which require that:

1. Personal data shall be:

(a) processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject ('lawfulness, fairness and transparency');

(b) collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes; further processing for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes shall, in accordance with Article 89(1), not be considered to be incompatible with the initial purposes ('purpose limitation');

(c) adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed ('data minimisation');

(d) accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date; every reasonable step must be taken to ensure that personal data that are inaccurate, having regard to the purposes for which they are processed, are erased or rectified without delay ('accuracy');

(e) kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed; personal data may be stored for longer periods insofar as the personal data will be processed solely for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes in accordance with Article 89(1) subject to implementation of the appropriate technical and organisational measures required by this Regulation in order to safeguard the rights and freedoms of the data subject ('storage limitation'). Note that there are additional requirements on location of storage and processing elsewhere in the laws;

(f) processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the personal data, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures ('integrity and confidentiality').

2. The controller shall be responsible for, and be able to demonstrate compliance with, paragraph 1 ('accountability').

Further information on the principles can be found on the Information Commissioner's Office website
