Independence and Well Being Enfield Limited: Data Protection / Privacy Statement

In supplying us with information, you are agreeing to us keeping and storing your information for the provision of service(s) to you. Your information will be retained for as long as we provide services to you and destroyed 7 years after we cease to provide you with services. If you wish us to erase your information prior to this please contact us to advise us of your decision.

We may share this information with other departments within Independence and Well Being, Enfield Council, Emergency Services, other parts of government, other councils and our delivery partners to deliver you services, to keep you safe and to ensure the services meet your needs or if required by law. If we identify a new need we will discuss this with you before sharing this information with others.

Your records enable us to have an oversight of your needs in the long term and how we have met those needs to date. By maintaining these records, we can work with you to reduce risk and to make an accurate assessment of your emerging needs should you require a more intensive service.

Details of how we manage data are available online at www.independenceandwellbeing.co.uk/privacy-policy

If you require a paper copy of our privacy policy, please ask.

You have rights in respect of your data including the right to be supplied information on our uses, to see what data we are holding about you, to request correction or erasure of your data, to object to processing and to complain to the supervisory authority.
